Statement concerning the genetic status:

- Rohavin® L

We confirm that for production of enzymatic activity within above listed product, micro-organisms have been used, which are not genetically modified.

We guarantee that only gmo-free agricultural substrates are in use as raw materials for all fermentation processes. For blending of products we use materials which are certified to be free of any genetic modification.

We like to indicate that our products are used as processing aids in the food manufacturing process and are thus free from any labelling provisions in the European Union.

The product is not falling within the scope of EU regulations (EC) 1829/2003 and (EC) 1830/2003 on genetically modified food and feed.
